Efficient software – Efficient project

Dürr Projects as a Service

You want to take advantage of an integrated information management for your projects without having to set up your own infrastructure and updating it continuously? We offer you to use Dürr Projects as Software as a Service. Just concentrate on your projects, we will manage everything else.

Benefit from the flexibility and the immediate availability of this solution. You do not have purchase any hardware or software, your users only need the Internet Explorer, which is included in every Windows installation, internet access and your login data. No matter if you are at work, at home or in a hotel, all project information is available worldwide - day and night.

Your data is stored in a professional external data center in adherence to highest security standards and is backed up daily.

If desired we advise your team on the creation of projects and the utilization of the program using underlying project management processes. Of course we are at your disposal to answer any arising questions concerning the work with Dürr Projects. We only charge you for our personnel and travel costs.

You are also welcome to use a free test account to get to know the benefits of Dürr Projects without obligation.
